

11/19/2008

Lois Weiss

lois.weiss@nypost.com

In other Times Square news, law firm Pryor Cashman will be moving to 100,000 feet in Times Square Tower, the Boston Properties-owned building at 7 Times Square.

No. 7 takes up the full block between 42nd and 41st streets between Broadway and Seventh Avenue.

The law firm will move from 410 Park Ave. to the 39th through 41st floors of the 48-story building as part of a 15-year lease.

The space was previously the New York outpost for Heller Ehrman, the San Francisco-based law firm that voted to dissolve in September.

CB Richard Ellis teams represented both sides of the transaction.