

Aaron J. Wiltse

Counsel

 New York, NY

 awiltse@pryorcashman.com

 212.326.0818

Aaron Wiltse is a member of Pryor Cashman's White Collar + Regulatory Enforcement Practice, where he works with companies and individuals in white collar criminal cases, government regulatory proceedings, and civil and criminal forfeiture actions.

Previously, Aaron was a litigation associate at another major New York firm.

Services

- White Collar + Regulatory Enforcement
- Litigation

Education

- Harvard Law School (J.D., 2017)
- University of New Mexico (B.A., summa cum laude, 2013)

Recognition

- Named a Super Lawyers - New York Metro "Rising Star" for Criminal Defense: White Collar (2025)

Admissions

- New York
- U.S. District Courts for the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York

Publications

May 8, 2026

Game Over for State Gambling Laws? The CFTC Pushes Prediction Markets Toward the Winner's Circle
New York Law Journal

March 27, 2026

New York Court of Appeals Gives Lawyers Powerful Arguments to Challenge Admission of Video Evidence
New York Law Journal

March 12, 2026

Reading the Tea Leaves: Forthcoming Regulatory Scrutiny of Prediction Markets

New York Law Journal

February 25, 2026

Playing With Fire: Tobacco Sales in North Korea Spark Lawsuits

New York Law Journal

January 20, 2026

Pyongyang by Proxy: The Growing Risks of Remote Work

New York Law Journal

December 23, 2025

'Lopez' and 'Kousisis': The Fraud Chronicles of a Post-'Ciminelli' World

New York Law Journal

November 6, 2025

No Trouble for DoubleZero: SEC Clears the Way for 2Z Token

New York Law Journal

November 3, 2025

Trade and Trade-Offs for India: The Dawn of Secondary Tariffs

New York Law Journal

September 19, 2025

In the 'Strike Zone': The Disruptive Technology Strike Force and U.S. Export Controls

New York Law Journal

August 14, 2025

Bribers Without Borders: The FCPA Is Not the Only Law in Town

New York Law Journal

July 18, 2025

Back to the Future: Developments and Potential Changes for FARA on the Horizon

New York Law Journal

July 3, 2025

Genius Moves Only: How Stablecoin Execs Can Avoid Compliance Catastrophe

New York Law Journal

June 20, 2025

Paying for Playing: White-Collar Risks for Online Video Game Companies

New York Law Journal

May 13, 2025

CFTC Memos Clarify When 'Sorry' Still Gets You Subpoenaed

Law360

April 21, 2025

Criminal Discovery and Prosecution Teams in Multi-District or Multi-Agency Criminal Investigations

New York Law Journal

March 26, 2025

Alberts and Wiltse Examine U.S. Prosecutions Based on Foreign Violations

Anti-Corruption Report

March 20, 2025

'They're Going To Take You': Responding to a Ransomware Attack

New York Law Journal

March 14, 2025

Considerations As Trump Admin Continues To Curtail CFPB

Law360

February 21, 2025

You Got Served: DOJ's New Approach to NDAA Subpoenas and the Significant Ramifications for Foreign Financial Institutions

New York Law Journal

January 21, 2025

Come Fly With Me: DOJ's Proposed FARA Amendments and the Tourism Industry

New York Law Journal

January 3, 2025

Federal Judge Slaps Down the SEC's Attempt to Regulate Crypto Liquidity Providers

New York Law Journal

December 19, 2024

Enemy of the State: Foreign Sovereign Immunity and Criminal Prosecutions after 'Halkbank'

New York Law Journal

November 14, 2024

Get Your Popcorn Ready: Sanctions Regulations Involving Artwork and Media Content in a Post-'Chevron' World

New York Law Journal

October 25, 2024

'I'm Sorry, That's Classified.' Navigating Issues of Classified Information in White Collar Prosecutions

New York Law Journal