

Christine M. Dimitriou

Counsel

Miami, FL

cdimitriou@pryorcashman.com

786.582.3008

Christine Dimitriou is a member of Pryor Cashman’s Litigation Group, where she represents clients in high-stakes disputes in the media and entertainment industries.

Previously, Christine was a senior associate at several business litigation firms. She has significant experience counseling clients regarding data privacy and cybersecurity compliance and best practices, contract disputes, business torts, and non-compete agreements, and has represented clients in both state and federal courts in Florida.

Services

- Litigation
- Media + Entertainment
- M+E Litigation
- Data Privacy + Cybersecurity

Education

- St. Thomas University School of Law (J.D., cum laude, 2012)
 - St. Thomas Law Review; Moot Court Member; Certified Legal Intern for the Appellate Division of the Miami-Dade Public Defender; President and Founder, St. Thomas Maritime Law Society; Research Assistant, Prof. Attilio Costabel; Dean’s List 2010-2012
- Florida International University (B.S., honors, 2008)
 - Florida Bright Futures Scholarship; National Honor Society; Member, Psi Chi

Recognition

Named Super Lawyers “Florida Rising Star” (2018 – 2023)

Admissions

- Florida
- U.S. District Court, Southern District of Florida